

PROMOTING OPTIMAL AGING AT HOME FOR OLDER ADULTS WITH MULTIPLE CHRONIC CONDITIONS:

INSIGHTS ON PATIENT AND CAREGIVER ENGAGEMENT FROM MCMASTER UNIVERSITY AGING, COMMUNITY AND HEALTH RESEARCH UNIT

FORTINOS COMMUNITY ROOM

1579 Main St. W. Hamilton

THURSDAY, MAY 31
7-8:30 P.M.

Networking and refreshments 6:30 - 7 p.m.

Dr. Jenny Ploeg, RN, PhD, is an associate member in the Department of Health, Aging and Society at McMaster University. Her primary research interests include evaluation of health services for older adults and their caregivers with a particular focus on older persons with multiple chronic conditions.

Hosted by GNAO
Hamilton Chapter

Members: $5 Non-Members: $10
Students: FREE

Register by May 25th
Email/Call Natalie Frixione at nat.frixione@gmail.com
(289) 441-5087

Dr. Maureen Markle-Reid, RN, MScN, PhD, holds a Tier 2 Canada Research Chair in Person-Centred Interventions for Older Adults with Multimorbidity and their Caregivers at McMaster University. She is an internationally recognized researcher in the area of health and economic evaluations of complex health and nursing interventions.