

Influencing System Change Through the Collective Voice of Community Health Nurses

Saturday March 28th, 2020 – 8:30am - 4:00pm

Goal

To have leaders in Community Health Nursing provide their perspective and experience related to the implementation of the Ontario Health Teams and Public Health modernization by the Ministry of Health and Long-Term Care and its impact on Community Health Nursing.

Objectives

1. To examine the current trends for effective health systems
2. To share the population health approach in building an effective health system
3. To explore how Community Health Nurses guide and influence this health system transformation

Hear from futurist Dr. Zayna Khayat as she reflects on how health care is evolving. As well, listen as leaders in Community Health Nursing (Susan McNeill, Katie Dilworth, Andrea Carter, and Dorothy Wedel) lead discussions as our expert panel. Finally, the day will conclude as speaker Ruth Schofield presents on engaging nursing students for new models of health care.

Register at myrnao.ca/civicrm/event/info?reset=1&id=778

Registration fee:

RN (RNAO Member): $20.00

RN and other professionals (Non-member): $45.00

Student (RNAO Member): $10.00

Student (Non-Member): $20.00

