Wahkohtowin (We are All Related)

Dr. Holly Graham, RN, BA, BScN, MN, PhD, R.D.

Psychologist, Assistant Professor, University of Saskatchewan
Indigenous Research Chair in Nursing

Thursday, August 20, 2020 at 7:00 pm - 8:00 pm E.S.T.

Dr. Graham will share her perspective of how professional relationships may be enriched. In this session, she will address concepts that impact the relationship between health care providers (HCPs) and their patients - both Indigenous (First Nation, Métis, and Inuit) and non-Indigenous.

Participants will ...

... understand basic principles to support and enhance individual resilience.

... understand the link between adverse childhood experiences (ACEs) and adult physical, emotional, and mental health, for both Indigenous and non-Indigenous peoples in Canada.

... understand the practicality of integrating trauma informed principles and care into daily practice.

... be introduced to Wahkohtowin, a Cree worldview that describes how we are all related and interconnected, and the concepts within the Indigenous Research Chair in Nursing.

... be introduced to the Partners for Change Outcome Management System (PCOMS) as part of patient-centered care.
